School To End Today

Interest has remained high in the Vacation Church School, which was sponsored by the Andover Council of Churches.

The School, held this year at Christ Episcopal Church, had a large staff representative of all the cooperating churches. In addition to those previously mentioned as staff members, the following names have also been added: Mrs. Odella Trujillo, Mrs. S. Joseph Hoffman of the South Church; Mrs. Daniel Benson, Mrs. Gordon Guest, Mrs. Charles Shattuck Jr., chairman of the nursery, of the Andover Baptist Church; Mrs. Robert Grant, Mrs. Edward Stupack of the Christ Episcopal Church and Mrs. James Trenholm of the Free Christian Church. Additional teenage assistants included Mary Woodes, Joanne Blamire, Judy Spumey, Karen Lundgren and Tom Trepas.

Almost perfect attendance was prevalent in all departments. With each division participating, the closing service is being held today at 11 a.m., with parents and friends as guests. Arthur Sevigny, representing the Protestant Guild for the Blind, is the guest speaker.

Bus Routes Are Approved

The Eastern Mass. Street Railway Co. has permission to use local streets for its express bus route to Park Square, Boston.

Approval by the Selectmen came after a general discussion with John Mulhern, manager of the local area.

He explained that the main route for the express bus will be along Route 28 to Route 125, then to Route 93. In case a bus leaving Lawrence is full, it will use Route 133 to Route 93. But in this event, a second bus will be pressed into service, and will pick up along the regular route.

The Selectmen's action was conditional on completion of Route 495. They felt that full buses could use this new highway to reach Route 93. During the discussion, Mr. Mulhern promised that there will be no car in local service, as a result of the new express runs.

Break Records In Water Use

The water department has been busting records all over the place, during the prolonged hot and dry weather.

For the first time, the station at Haggett's Pond recorded in excess of 5.1 million gallons of water in one day. That record was broken on two successive days last week.

On June 26, 5,128 million gallons were pumped; the following day, last Thursday, the load was 5,116 million gallons.

And to deliver this much water to thirsty people, gardens, lawns and swimming pools, the pumping station also broke records for operation of the pumps themselves.

Three shifts were put on, and the pumps operated 24 hours daily to keep the reservoirs full. Normal pumping time in the summer is about 16 hours a day, according to Mr. Bassett.

The Pond, despite the record

Andover Will Have Special Night At Red Sox Game

SELECTMEN ADOPT JULY 4 RESOLUTION

Since Thursday, July 4, is the 187th anniversary of our Independence, and since this day has been celebrated throughout the nation as a festive occasion on every year since the Liberty bell first pealed, and since our Congressman F. Bradford Morse filed a resolve with the U.S. House of Representatives to revive bell ringing throughout our Nation on the 4th of July, be it hereby resolved that the Andover Board of Selectmen heartily condone these sentiments and respectfully ask that all bells within the town of Andover be rung at 2 p.m. Thursday, July 4, 1963.

Andover's day at a Red Sox game will be held July 26, when the Sox face the Los Angeles Angels.

Tickets are currently on sale throughout the town for the night game, at which the fire department will honor relief hurler Dick Radatz by making him an honorary member of the local department.

The Selectmen have officially recognized the "day" - although this official designation is not being used due to regulations at the Park.

Selectman Paul W. Cronin and Town Employees Association President Raymond LaRosa have been spearheading the drive.

Transportation will be available for those purchasing tickets.

Proceeds from the affair will go to the Jummy Fund, according to the two officials.

Vital Tips For Summer Swimmers

Hopeful of helping to reduce the drowning toll of 6,500 a year, Donald D. Dunn, water safety chairman for the Andover Red Cross Chapter, today issued "safety first" suggestions for those who will engage in water sports this summer.

A great majority of the annual drownings occur during recreational use of the water - swimming and boating - according to Mr. Dunn.

"Most of these tragedies could have been averted if the victims and their companions had known and followed safe practices," Mr. Dunn said. "Both the drowning rate and the actual number of drownings have been reduced materially in the last 50 years," he continued. "But 6,500 a year are still too many."

His first caution on safety in the water was "Don't try to swim too far too soon." A swimmer going into the water for the first time this year doesn't have the endurance he had the end of last summer.

Mr. Dunn also warned of the great danger of games in which young people vie with each other in holding their breath for long periods under water. "Carbon dioxide builds up in the bloodstream and brain when the breath is held, and too much carbon dioxide leads to unconsciousness. When unconscious, an underwater swimmer begins breathing automatically, which means inhaling water. Unless help is at hand to get him very quickly to the surface, he

1963 CASH REFUNDS Already Half Earned

The Fourth of July is at hand. What we so recently called the new year is already half gone.

This has special significance to CO-OP shoppers. Because they know that their CASH refunds for 1963 are already half earned.

Here is how it works. The CO-OP's surplus at the end of the year is divided among its member — shoppers in proportion to their purchases. As a result, the more they shop here, the more they save — as CASH, the real Coin of the Realm, to do with anything they wish. The whole world is their Catalog.

When you realize that the CO-OP is a local institution, selling at competitive prices in a friendly atmosphere at a convenient location with plenty of parking space, you can see why so many of your friends and neighbors prefer to SHOP CO-OP.

Associates Plan Autumn Events

The June chicken barbecue held by the Chestnut Court Associates was very successful.

Thirty-seven people attended and the weather man proved himself to be most cooperative by providing very delightful weather.

A business meeting followed, and it was decided to hold an Autumn fair and tea Oct. 19. The main purpose of this event will be fellowship. It was felt that by holding work parties throughout the summer, the women would be joined together in a spirit of friendliness and sociability. Work sessions will be held every Thursday morning during the summer months and a social afternoon will follow. Co-chairmen of the workdays are Mrs. William Mower and Mrs. William Fessenden. Mrs. Helen Burnham is president of the Chestnut Court Association.

Two residents of Chestnut Court have recently returned from vacation trips. They are Mrs. Josephine Newman, who went to Wells Beach, Me., and Miss Irma Beene, who visited Vermont.

2 Working At Bon Secours

Bon Secours Hospital is fortunate in having two Andover college students serving on its staff for the summer and they are enthused about the practical experience they are receiving.

The students are Miss Judith Ann Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Scott of Chestnut st., and Miss Sherry Hartford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Hartford of Lowell st.

Miss Scott has just completed her junior year at the University of Massachusetts and is a student under the Collegiate Nursing Program. Miss Hartford is studying under the Nursing Program at Vermont University.

usage, is only down by 15 inches. Bassett said this is only a small drop, and is of no particular concern.

The pumping records for the week, between June 24 and June 28, include these figures: June 24, 1,094 million gallons; June 25, 1,094 million; June 26, 5,128; June 27, 5,116; June 28, 5,010; and June 29, 3,719 million gallons. The latter day - Saturday - was damp and cooler than had been the preceding week.

Although there is no problem with the town's water supply, Mr. Bassett noted that distribution became a problem in some sections of South Main st., where capacity along the lines reduced the flow to a trickle, at times, in homes on higher elevations.

This problem is being solved this year through additional water mains, he explained.

"One man's food is another man's poison."

This comment made over 2000 years ago by a Roman philosopher, Lucretius, was spoken in reference to one of mankind's most persistent ailments - allergies.

What Lucretius did not realize, however, was that one man's soap, pet, garden, money and mattress, along with literally thousands of other everyday items, can also be another man's poison.

Allergies spring from five general groupings: Food - any and all kinds; plant and animal emanations; animal dandruff; objects of contact and bacteria.

No one, however, is allergic to the courteous service you will find at SHAWSHEEN PHARMACY. Prescriptions and medical supplies are a specialty at SHAWSHEEN PHARMACY, 2 Poor St. Phone 475-2590.

Her head was covered with a mantilla of re-embroidered Alencon lace.

EDITORIAL THOUGHTS

The Only Way

The charter study committee, very wisely we believe, has asserted its belief that a study of departmental operations is necessary, if any good is to come of the whole project.

For the operation of departments is, in fact, tied in so completely with the successes and failures of the town manager system that to ignore these operations would make the study ineffective.

It was agreed at the meeting that the charter is a document, incapable of acting by itself. Thus it is the human implementation of the charter that counts.

While no one wants to see a witch hunt, we all would like to feel that this study has been undertaken with full authority to cover the subject completely. To surround the committee with obstacles, too many do's and don'ts, will only result in a weakened report that will satisfy no one.

It appeared to us that the committee wants only to have the job done to the best of its ability — there was every indication that all efforts will be made to be fair and objective during the course of the study.

On Again, Off Again

We're puzzled and confused over the garbage collection frequency during this summer.

Earlier, in the spring, Town Manager Thomas E. Duff said collections would not be undertaken on a twice-weekly basis, as called for in the contract, unless conditions made this necessary. He also commented that the growth of the town, since the contract was awarded, has resulted in more collections than were first required.

Now we understand that twice-weekly pick-ups will be made, on request of any resident. All one has to do, apparently, is call the collector and he will arrange for the extra service.

This all seems strange, in an terms of an orderly administration of this particular phase of the government. It doesn't make sense for the trucks to make special trips for those who want collections twice each week. This could be more of a burden, from the standpoint of extra mileage and time, than scheduling a whole route on the more frequent basis.

Either the town is going to have twice-weekly summer garbage collections or it isn't — but we can't have both. Perhaps the responsible officials should make up their minds which of these choices they want, then take a firm, positive, unrevocable position on the question.

Good Job Being Done

Last week's heat wave drew thousands of men, women and children to Pomp's Pond — in numbers far in excess of normal.

It is a tribute to Wil Hixon and his staff that there were no incidents beyond the normal waterfront routine. For throughout the year at Pomp's, it is common procedure to help youngsters who get scared when they get out over their heads, or tire quicker than they thought they would.

Had the Pond's supervised waterfront not been expanded this year, almost by twice its former size, it would have been impossible to handle the crowds that fought the heat by swimming. As it was last week, the crowds were nearly overwhelming at times.

Expansion of the facility, to include the former Camp Olympia, may come in the future. Certainly last week's record use proves the need, whenever money is available.

Down the Years with The Townsman

75 Years Ago — July, 1888

The old Henry Dove homestead was destroyed Wednesday afternoon by fire. The occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Clark, returned home at 5:15 and saw smoke in the attic. A team was sent to town to give the alarm and the steamer, with hook and ladder, responded in good time. However, the supply of water was insufficient for adequate use.

Prospects are brighter here for recovery, following the upward swing of the stock market over the past two weeks. The Shawheen Mills are running three shifts in some departments and two in others. The Marland Mills are also doing well.

"We never remove officers for doing their duty; we just remove them if they don't", commented Chief George A. Dane this week. He referred to a reported petition, instigated by young men who hang around the Square, asking that reserve officer Joseph O'Brien. That officer arrested two of the men over the weekend, on charges of being drunk and assault. Chief Dane solidly backed the officer, and commented that conditions are somewhat better in the Square now, with greater attention being paid to that area on Saturdays. Numerous citizens have been complaining about the men hanging around.

AT THE LIBRARY

Coming Events

JULY

- 4 Library closed, all departments.
- 5 Ballardvale library open 2-5 and 6-8 p.m.
- 6 Saturdays library is closed during summer.
- 10 2:30-3:15 p.m. Story hour for boys and girls.
- 11 10:15-10:45 a.m. Record listening hours.

Summer Hours

The library is open daily Monday through Friday during the summer. The main reading room is open 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.; the Children's room is open from 10 a.m. to noon and from 2-5 p.m. The Ballardvale branch room is open as usual Mondays and Thursdays from 2-5 and 6-8 p.m.

All departments are closed Sundays and holidays; Saturday closing runs through September 7.

On Vacation

Miss Miriam Putnam, Mrs. Ethel Wilson, Mrs. Margaret Berry and Mrs. Pauline Downs of the library staff are on vacation.

For Young People

There are to be story hours at the library every Wednesday afternoon from 2:30 to 3:15 during the summer weeks, record listening hours every Thursday morning from 10:15 to 10:45, planned especially for children 6 to 12. And all through the summer the Bookworms will be having a wonderful time reading in their "Treasure In Books" program. A child may join at any time by signing the Treasure Club Reading Roll in the children's room, or in the Ballardvale branch library. There are special reading lists for each grade, and reading records to note down the titles as they are read. In the fall there will be the "Bookworms" party, open only to those who have their reading records, properly stamped, as admission tickets. Full details of the summer fun for boys and girls are printed and may be picked up at the library.

Just Sit And Read

That's about the coolest thing one can do when the thermometer hovers near the ninety mark. And there is no better place to make your selection of good books than in the library. With the vacation extended loan now in effect older books may be taken for the summer. Books which the library has owned less than a year are not allowed for the summer, but in three weeks many of these titles, all among the newer books, could be read and returned. In the fiction shelves are these: The Prism, Lash — a study in religious faith versus practice; The Hugo Winners, Asimov, ed. — the Hugo is to science fiction what an Emmy is to TV; here are Hugo winning stories in that field, collected by Isaac Asimov from publications of 1955 on; Cobbler's Dream, Dickens — an eighteen year old; from a correctional institution, rescues a horse from being destroyed, and trains him; What's Become Of Waring? Powell — when a noted English travel book writer is reported dead, his publishers decide that they must bring out a biography of the man at once — ironic and comic situations; The Yankee Rascals, Vaughan — when the British cavalry took Jeremy Ford prisoner, they had a man who could have been made to disclose important information yet a man who could have caused the release of important American prisoners; Summer Doctor, Knickerbocker — a summer in a quiet Maine village proves startling and exciting to a city doctor who is staying there; Nightingale At Noon, a mystery tale in which a girl must decide her loyalty to her father or the man she loves; The Artist, de Hartog — most unusual story of Joost Jansen, who has two ambitions — to follow the sea and to paint; the setting is Holland at the turn of the century. In the non-fiction there are some very amusing books this summer: Sirens Should Be Seen And Not Heard, -by Hermione Gingold, touches wittily on a variety of subjects; What The Butler Saw, by Turner covers 250 years of the servant problem in what has been called "an irreverent account," "Patchwork Child" by Mrs. Vincent Astor, is an account of her early life until her marriage at 16. As daughter of a Marine officer she lived in all four corners of the earth and writes of the effect that this had; read "The Rag Race" if you wish to know how New York and Paris run the breakneck business of dressing American women is style; "Enjoy Europe By Car" is a "must" book for anyone who contemplates a trip abroad and plans to see Europe in the leisurely fashion that a car provides; with the new version of "Mutiny On The Bounty" now playing, the book "H.M.S. Bounty" by Alexander McKee makes wonderful background reading; the philosophy of successful retirement is well outlined in the book "Sixty-Five Plus" by C. B. Randall, a book that should be read before middle age; "Faces From The Fire" is a thrilling biography of Sir Archibald McIndoe, the English plastic surgeon who rebuilt the faces, arms and bodies of hundreds of air men in the hospital at East Grinstead; he performed over 4500 operations in the four war years, with revolutionary techniques and daring methods. Ask for these at the desk if you do not locate them on the new book shelves.

Tarbox In Rebuttal

Fred Tarbox, Andover's representative on the Regional Vocational School Committee, stoutly defends the Committee's selection of a West Andover site for the school.

The land — some 43 acres — is across River rd. from the old North District School.

Mr. Tarbox, in response to editorial comment in the Townsman last week, presents the following arguments for the site:

Transportation to the school from all four cooperating communities is reimbursed by the state and federal governments. Thus it is not a direct cost to the real estate taxpayers in the communities.

A site of over 40 acres can not be found in Lawrence; the cost of preparing other locations considered by the Committee would be considerably greater than the one now contemplated. The River rd. site is flat and easily workable, with easier access to Lawrence sewer connections.

The town will get increased state aid, based on participation in the school region. The net income from the state, after deducting the cost of Andover's share of the expenses, will more than offset any possible loss in tax revenue from the land utilized for the school.

Moreover, the site has narrow frontage but good depth and, in the Committee's opinion, would not be considered prime industrial property. It is good, however, for the school's purposes.

In general, Mr. Tarbox re-emphasized his belief that the school must be constructed and put to use as quickly as possible, so that a labor pool can be created in the area. Only then, he states, will industry truly be interested in this area.

very amusing books this summer. Sirens Should Be Seen And Not Heard, -by Hermione Gingold, touches wittily on a variety of subjects; What The Butler Saw, by Turner covers 250 years of the servant problem in what has been called "an irreverent account," "Patchwork Child" by Mrs. Vincent Astor, is an account of her early life until her marriage at 16. As daughter of a Marine officer she lived in all four corners of the earth and writes of the effect that this had; read "The Rag Race" if you wish to know how New York and Paris run the breakneck business of dressing American women is style; "Enjoy Europe By Car" is a "must" book for anyone who contemplates a trip abroad and plans to see Europe in the leisurely fashion that a car provides; with the new version of "Mutiny On The Bounty" now playing, the book "H.M.S. Bounty" by Alexander McKee makes wonderful background reading; the philosophy of successful retirement is well outlined in the book "Sixty-Five Plus" by C. B. Randall, a book that should be read before middle age; "Faces From The Fire" is a thrilling biography of Sir Archibald McIndoe, the English plastic surgeon who rebuilt the faces, arms and bodies of hundreds of air men in the hospital at East Grinstead; he performed over 4500 operations in the four war years, with revolutionary techniques and daring methods. Ask for these at the desk if you do not locate them on the new book shelves.

Wedding...

MAURO - LAMPARIELLO

Miss Genevieve V. Lampariello, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander L. Lampariello, 44 Clark rd., became the bride of Peter G. Mauro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Mario W. Mauro, 8034 168 st., Jamaica, N. Y., at a 10 o'clock ceremony, Saturday, June 22, in St. Augustine's Church.

The Rev. James A. Wenzel, O.S.A., officiated. White gladioli were used in decorating the church altar. Thomas McCormack of Andover was soloist.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and wore a floor-length gown of silk organza with applique lace motifs. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a portrait neckline, long sleeves and a full skirt ending in a chapel train. Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of lace and seed pearls. She carried a white satin Prayer book with gardenias and streamers of stephanotis.

The bridal attendants were Mrs. Jaynet Lampariello Jr. of Haverhill, as matron of honor; Miss Elaine Lampariello, Miss Barbara Faris, Miss Susan Treanor, all of Andover, were the bridesmaids. The matron of honor wore a floor length gown of pink and the bridesmaids gowns, floor length, were in aqua. They were styled with lace bodices with round necklines and short sleeves. Their skirts of silk organza were full-shaped, controlled bell styled. The head-pieces were small crowns with short veils of matching colors to compliment their gowns and they wore long white elbow-length gloves. Cascade bouquets were carried of colors to high-light their gowns.

The bride's mother wore a silk turquoise ensemble, styled with lace bodice with portrait neckline, drop sleeves and sheath skirt. She wore matching accessories and a corsage of white roses.

The bridegroom's mother wore a pale blue sheath dress with cap sleeves and satin belt adorned with seed pearls. She had matching accessories and her corsage was of white roses.

Lawrence Farrell of Jackson Heights, N. Y., served as best man. The ushers were Alexander L. Lampariello Jr. of Haverhill, Lawrence Kennedy of Newark, N. J. and Roy Perry of Boston.

A reception was held at the Rendezvous in Methuen, with guests from New York, New Jersey, New Hampshire, Boston, Lowell, Haverhill, Lawrence, Groton, Medford, Belmont and Chelmsford.

Following a wedding trip to the White Mountains, the couple will reside at 5 Butler Place, Sudbury.

The bride is a graduate of Andover High School and Lowell State College, where she majored in music education.

The bridegroom graduated from Brooklyn Technical High School.

Twenty-five business and professional men joined the Andover Board of Trade, a division of the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce, during the Chamber's recent membership drive, it was announced by Board President Robert Phinney.

Membership in the Board of Trade now totals 102 members, representing virtually every type of business and professional trade located in Andover, according to the Chamber's records. The ABT's membership was approximately 30 members on June of last year before the Board affiliated with the Chamber.

"Because of this increase in support and interest, the Board plans to broaden its program of activities this year", Mr. Phinney stated. "To help achieve these new goals, the number of directors was increased from seven to nine", he explained.

5. If you have a home swimming pool, it is safest to fence it in, to keep small children from falling into the water.

6. Keep small children out of the pool except when adults are present.

7. Separate deep and shallow water in your pool with a buoyed line.

8. Keep handy such rescue equipment as ring buoys and reaching poles, as well as a first aid kit.

9. Keep bottles and glasses away from the concrete pool deck.

10. Alcohol and swimming don't mix. Stay out of the water if you've been drinking.

11. Take precautions against sunburn, even on a cloudy day.

12. Keep clear of the swimming pool area immediately in front of the diving board.

13. Don't depend on inflated toys or tubes to hold you up in the water.

14. Don't dive in shallow water and check unfamiliar waters before diving.

15. Stay out of deep water if you aren't a good swimmer.

16. In ocean and river swimming, watch for riptides and currents. Lifeguards will tell you how to recognize conditions and how to save yourself if you are caught.

17. In long-distance swimming, always swim parallel to shore and always with a companion or an accompanying boat.

18. Stay away from piers and pilings while swimming.

19. If your canoe or rowboat overturns, stay with it. Don't swim away from it; it usually won't sink.

Fire At Jackson School

The Samuel Jackson School was a near-miss last Wednesday night, June 26, when flames broke out in the equipment room.

Box 472 was sounded, and firefighters moved the source of the blaze - an equipment box containing athletic equipment - out of the room. Although the fire was confined to the one room, smoke seeped through the rest of the building. Some wiring was damaged in the fire.

The detector system, according to fire officials, failed to give warning of the fire. A woman walking in the rear of the school, with her small child, called the attention of a custodian to smoke pouring from the door.

It was also reported that two 50-gallon drums of floor wax, supplies for lawn mowers, and several mowers with attached gasoline tanks, were stored in the room.

The athletic equipment, which was on fire, had been used shortly before the fire. The box was sounded at 8:35 p.m.
